TRANSFORMING RECYCLED PET INTO SURFACES PEOPLE LOVE

Do you rely on first-class design, the best print quality and sustainability? Fineflex combines demands for a modern but environmentally friendly decor surface. This is where many years of design expertise in the field of decor printing and pioneering technology for the production of sustainable lacquer laminate surfaces come together. In a unique manufacturing process, we recycle PET and reuse it. Available with a decor or plain, from super-matt to high-gloss.

Thanks to the special varnishing, the surface is a winner with its unique feel and anti-fingerprint effect. It is particularly easy to care for with a high level of moisture resistance and resistance to external influences. Due to its very good processing properties, Fineflex is also ideally suited as an environmentally friendly wrapping- and 3DL film.

Fineflex is modern, ecological and its designs reflect current trends and demands on the next generation of surfaces.

Let's shape the future together.
